

Law Enforcement in a Digital World: Youth, Technology, Social Media, Drugs, & Mental Health

Full Day Training

Law enforcement professionals are invited to join us as we team up with Licensed Professional Counselor and Nationally Certified Counselor Ryan Klingensmith, who is the founder of Shape the Sky, an organization dedicated to Creating Responsible Kids on Smartphones. Through parent, professional, and youth trainings, combined with online resources, Shape the Sky provides the community with the tools needed to raise digitally responsible citizens. The goal of this training session is to help adults provide education and guidance for youth in order to create a digitally responsible culture among today's youth. This full-day session will identify categories of social networking that law enforcement should be aware of and looking for with youth.

Depending on the current trends, the presentation may review information on:

- How the world has changed for law enforcement
- Being a digital law enforcement professional
- Why kids don't talk to adults about technology
- Understanding current youth culture
- Deep Web vs. Dark Web
- Accessing the Dark Web through apps and web browsers
- Understanding Deepfakes, Deepnudes and Deepporn
- Sextortion
- Revenge Porn
- Virtual Private Networks (VPN's) and Proxy Servers
- Image blogs
- Online grooming
- Age restrictions
- Cyberbullying resources
- Fake text messages
- Finsta accounts
- "Parasite" websites
- Terms, images & language related to "parasite websites"
- Trolls & behaviors
- "Gore" & death sites then and now
- Common mistakes
- Sharing private information & identity theft
- Hidden photo vaults
- Social media and drugs
- Digital Currency (ex. Bitcoin)
- Internet "challenges" (Momo)
- Random Chat Websites
- Mental health concerns such as eating disorders, self-harm and suicide
- Suicide prevention resources
- 13 Reasons Why Netflix series
- Digital Dating & Abuse
- Untraceable texting
- "Anonymous" apps
- How to start the conversation
- Prevention steps
- Monitoring services
- Using a Technology Contract
- Taking a social media pledge
- How to set expectations
- When to monitor a device
- Access to online resources
- Creating a digitally responsible youth

Depending on the current trends, the presentation may review popular apps such as:

- | | | | | |
|-------------|---------------|----------------|--------|------------------|
| ▪ Instagram | ▪ YOLO | ▪ Tumblr | ▪ Yubo | ▪ Venmo |
| ▪ Snapchat | ▪ TikTok | ▪ Hidden Photo | ▪ Tor | ▪ Jott Messenger |
| ▪ Confide | ▪ Afterschool | ▪ Vaults | ▪ VSCO | |

Ryan Klingensmith began his career in 1994, working for an inpatient psychiatric hospital with teens diagnosed with a mental health disorder. Mr. Klingensmith has worked in group homes, Residential Treatment Facilities, and youth shelters. In 2010, Mr. Klingensmith started providing outpatient mental health therapy for youth. He also began working in Student Assistance Programs (SAPs) in middle and high schools, helping to identify at-risk students and provide them with mental health and drug/alcohol prevention referral services. In his work, Mr. Klingensmith began classroom prevention presentations regarding youth social media culture and saw the positive effect on students, both in private practice and within schools. Currently he provides Educational Mentoring for a school district working with students K-12. He also provides social media training for parents, counselors, educators, community groups, law enforcement, and any other adults helping to shape the lives of youth. For more information on Mr. Klingensmith's initiatives, visit shapethesky.org and/or the Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/shapethesky/>.

"Kids have the knowledge to use the technology, but sometimes lack the wisdom to use it. Adults have the wisdom to use the technology, but sometimes lack the knowledge to use it. My goal is to connect knowledge with wisdom." ~ Ryan Klingensmith

